

METADATA LIBRARIAN AND ASSISTANT DIVISION HEAD

Simon Fraser University Library invites applications for the position of Metadata Librarian and Assistant Division Head of the Resource Acquisition, Management, and Metadata (RAMM) division.

This position will be attractive to an individual who has a co-operative, collaborative and respectful approach to all areas of their work and can contribute to the library's ongoing efforts to work toward equity, inclusion, and accessibility within the library. We seek an inspiring metadata expert who will actively promote the goals and values of the SFU Library, join in efforts to dismantle systemic barriers throughout the library, and work with Indigenous and non-Indigenous colleagues to advance the university's and library's reconciliation and decolonization initiatives. The successful candidate will have excellent communication and collaborative skills and a strong user-centred focus when engaged in metadata creation and manipulation. They will monitor trends in cataloguing and metadata, and promote creative and sustainable metadata for digital collections.

SETTING

We acknowledge the Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw (Squamish), xʷməθkʷəy̓əm (Musqueam), sə́lilwətaʔt (Tsleil-Waututh), q̓íćəy̓ (Katzie), and kʷíkʷəłəm (Kwkwetlem) peoples, on whose traditional territories Simon Fraser University's three campuses stand. By recognizing the Unceded Traditional Coast Salish territories, we aspire to create space for reconciliation through dialogue and decolonizing practices.

Ranked by respected national surveys as one of Canada's top three comprehensive universities for the past 20 years, Simon Fraser University has also been consistently named one of British Columbia's Top Employers in recent years, as well as one of Canada's Top 100 employers, and one of Canada's top family-friendly employers. SFU offers more than 100 undergraduate major and joint major programs and more than 75 graduate offerings, spanning many disciplines in eight faculties, and has an international reputation for its innovative interdisciplinary and professional programs. The main W.A.C. Bennett Library is located on the Burnaby campus, while the Samuel and Frances Belzberg Library is on the Vancouver campus, and Fraser Library is at SFU Surrey.

The SFU Library is known for the development and implementation of innovative technology, leadership in Open Access, and excellent in-person and online user services. We serve an ethnically diverse student population, most of whom live off-campus and work part-time while attending university. SFU Library collaborates broadly with other institutions through membership in the Canadian Association of Research Libraries, the Association of Research Libraries, and regional consortia. For more information, see our web site at <https://www.lib.sfu.ca>.

The SFU Library commits to a continuous process of transformation to advance equity, diversity, and inclusion and to serve the cause of social justice. The Library's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Inclusion provides more information.

ASSIGNMENT

Reporting to the Division Head, the Metadata Librarian provides expertise and leadership for the Metadata unit within the RAMM division. They coordinate MARC and non-MARC metadata creation and management for the Library's electronic and print collections. As Assistant Division Head they oversee the work of five staff, establishing best practices, policies, and procedures. A strong collaborative leader with a focus on user needs, they work with internal and external partners to create solutions that ensure optimal discovery of the Library's collections.

Metadata work

- Supervise original and complex copy cataloguing and bring a systematic approach toward correcting errors in the catalogue
- Develop metadata crosswalks and data conversion processes for managing and integrating diverse metadata, including MARC and non-MARC formats, to facilitate interoperability across multiple discovery systems
- Direct the cataloguing of unconventional formats or foreign language collections, and provide expertise for other library initiatives that include a cataloguing or metadata component
- Maintain awareness of current and emerging trends, standards, and best practices in cataloguing and metadata

Leadership and supervision

- Provide leadership, expertise, training, and management for the Metadata unit (five continuing staff)
- Assess, develop, and document standards, policies, and procedures to support discovery, access and use of the Library's physical and digital collections
- Participate in digital project planning, and create appropriate metadata strategies and workflows to ensure accuracy and discovery
- Foster diversity, equity, and inclusion through cataloguing and metadata practices that advance thinking for justice and mitigate problematic legacy metadata
- Communicate and collaborate with other Library divisions (for example Digital Library Services, Special Collections and Rare Books, and the subject liaison group), researchers, and external partners engaged in metadata creation, emphasizing a strong user-centred approach
- Act as Division Head whenever Division Head is absent and perform administrative human resource related functions as required
- Develop professional knowledge and skills on a continuing basis
- Advance the values and goals outlined in the Library's Strategic Plan
- Other librarian duties as assigned

QUALIFICATIONS

Required:

- Master's degree in Library or Information Studies from an ALA accredited program, or its equivalent

- A minimum of three years of professional library experience, with increasing leadership responsibilities (n.b. candidates can include internship or placement experience)
- Deep knowledge and a record of advancing equity, diversity, and inclusion and the ability to identify ways in which the RAMM division can advance social justice and Indigenous initiatives at the Library and SFU
- A record of recognizing, respecting, and working effectively with individuals and groups with diverse perspectives and backgrounds
- Experience in developing, maintaining, and growing professional relationships and contributing to a collegial team environment
- Demonstrated experience in applying and adapting library and archival metadata principles to existing and emerging content in a variety of formats
- Knowledge of current national and international standards for cataloguing and bibliographic control such as RDA, MARC21, and AACR2, and experience editing and transforming MARC records
- Experience working in an Integrated Library System (for example Alma, Sierra, or Worldshare) performing resource description, batch set loading, and maintenance
- Knowledge of non-MARC metadata structures such as Dublin Core, MODS, and TEI
- Interest in or knowledge of reparative description, for example decolonizing metadata
- Demonstrated project management experience, including time management skills and ability to set priorities and meet deadlines. Includes ability to be consultative and to coordinate actions based on needs and expertise of various stakeholders.
- Ability to assess, analyze, plan, and solve problems creatively and collaboratively in a complex, rapidly-changing environment
- Strong commitment to user-centred library service and the ability to work flexibly and creatively in a changing and fast-paced environment with a culturally diverse population
- Excellent interpersonal and intercultural communication skills, both orally and written
- Commitment to continued professional development

Desired:

Applicants are reminded that the points below are merely desired. The Search Committee welcomes applications from candidates who do not have experience or knowledge in these areas.

- Supervisory experience in a unionized environment
- Experience with creating, implementing, and evaluating policies, procedures, and workflows, and leading staff training
- Experience with tools that assist in metadata creation and remediation (e.g. OpenRefine, MARCedit) as well as bibliographic utilities (e.g. OCLC Connexion, Worldshare)
- Practical and theoretical knowledge of PCC programs (BIBCO, CONSER, NACO, and SACO)
- Knowledge of the linked data environment and the semantic web, including emerging library initiatives (e.g. BIBFRAME, data modeling in RDF)
- Experience with the Alma integrated library system and managing electronic resources
- Knowledge of trends in academic research library environments
